

APPLICATION IS MADE BY CITY FOR REHEARING OF WATER RATES

Application for a rehearing in the matter of fixing water rates for Xenia, has been made to the Public Utilities Commission, by City Manager Kenyon Riddle and City Solicitor J. A. Finney.

The city cites eight grounds upon which it asks the Commission to grant a new hearing, among them, that after the Commission rendered its decision fixing the valuation and rates, without any notice whatever to the City of Xenia, the schedule of rates was materially changed in favor of the complainant, the Xenia Water Company, and to the detriment of the city.

While the minimum consumption was originally fixed at 10,000 gallons, annually, the Commission changed its decision, fixing the minimum consumption at 8,500 gallons, payable at the rate of $2.75 per quarter, with a discount of 25 cents.

Other grounds laid down by the city for asking for a rehearing are:

The order is made effective as for March, 1917, but in fixing said valuation, items for improvements on said properties since that date were included and added to the valuation as fixed as of said date.

That in fixing the valuation one item considered was for "organized" organization expense of $5,000." That the record does not show that any amount was actually expended by the Xenia Water Company for preliminary organization.

That in fixing the valuation the Commission should have considered the actual cost of building, equipment and the putting in operation of said plant at the time of construction.

That the record discloses there are two sources of water supply, two pumping stations, and a duplication of operating expenses at the plant of the Xenia Water Company, and that the city ought not to be charged for more than one plant.

That the rate fixed for public service is exorbitant and such that the city from all sources of revenue, cannot pay the cost of operating expenses after March, 1917, and made the order effective as of said date, when it should have considered only such evidence up to the time the order became effective.

That after the decision of the Commission fixing the valuation and rates, without any notice whatever to the defendant, the City of Xenia, the schedule of rates was materially changed in favor of the complainant, and to the detriment of the defendant.

The rates fixed by the Commission for public service will cost the city $13,804 for fire protection, or nearly half as much as the entire yearly revenue of the city.

DOCK WORKMEN GO ON A STRIKE

CONFERENCE TO BE DELAYED FOR ANOTHER MONTH

New York, Nov. 15.—The loading of ships with foodstuffs and supplies for American troops abroad, was almost at a standstill in New York today, as a result of a strike of workmen at the great army base in Brooklyn, as a protest against the abolishment of overtime.

Approximately 7,000 employees who walked out yesterday refused to return today.

ATTEMPT MADE TO BLOW UP NEWSPAPER

Youngstown, Ohio, Nov. 15.—An attempt to blow up the Youngstown Telegram newspaper office was made late Thursday night when a bomb, planted just outside the press room, let go.

Little damage was done the newspaper building on the outside but the breaking of windows. Houses within a radius of a block, however, were riddled with bomb fragments.

The Telegram has been one of the foremost dry advocates. Several years ago, during a wet and dry campaign, an attempt was made to dynamite the home of its publisher, Samuel C. McClure.

AMERICAN AIRMAN LANDS IN COLOGNE

Copenhagen, Nov. 15.—An American airman landed in Cologne yesterday, it was reported here today.

Cologne, the northernmost of the important Rhine crossings to be held by the allies, is 38 miles from the nearest point on the Dutch border and 125 miles from the nearest point of the allied lines, as established at 11 A. M., Nov. 11.

ALLIES WILL HELP IF ORDER IS RESTORED

London, Nov. 15.—If the reported anti-semitic program in Warsaw is confirmed, the government will view it as encouragement to the forces of disorder and violence which are threatening the populations between the Rhine and Volga.

The allies are ready to lend their whole resources for restoration of the economic bases of the civilized life in these countries during order and civilization. But if the peoples of the central empires are disorderly, it was intimated today, the allies will only be able to wait for restoration of conditions leading to the processes of peace.

BRUSSELS SHAKES OFF HUN SCOURGE

Ghent, Belgium, Nov. 15.—Brussels has shaken itself of the German yoke. German soldiers themselves are removing the shackles of the long suffering population.

The red flag floats over the headquarters of the German commandant and the officers have been disarmed.

DEMAND ALLIED GOVERNMENT ACT AGAINST THE KAISER

Paris, Nov. 15.—Three deputies today served notice they will move that the allied governments open legal proceedings against those responsible for the war, through establishment of a tribunal composed of representatives of all countries which have suffered from machinations of these men.

They declared in a memorandum that even if Holland should refuse extradition papers "the fact that the kaiser, crown prince and their advisers had been condemned by such tribunal would place them in such a position that their only refuge would be death."

It is now expected that the peace conference will be held in Versailles, early in 1919. Foreign Secretary Balfour and Foreign Minister Connino already have arrived there. Premier Lloyd George and Premier Orlando are expected soon. Col. House is working overtime.

DEMAND PUNISHMENT OF HUN CRIMINALS

New York, Nov. 15.—The executive committee of the American Defense Society has sent a telegram to President Wilson, requesting "that no terms of peace shall be assented to which shall not include the trial, and if found guilty, the punishment of all persons who may have committed any criminal act outside of the laws of France."

London, Nov. 15.—German soldiers are committing acts of violence against inhabitants and are destroying and pillaging contrary to the terms of the armistice, according to a French wireless message received here.

The message, which is from the allied high command, to the German high command, says that the allied command expects the German command to take measures to stop the violations. If the acts increase, it is added, the allied command will take steps to end them.

The Germans are violating the armistice at different points and especially in Belgium and the region of Brussels.

CONGRESS EXPECTS LITTLE REVOLT OF ITS OWN IN MARCH

Washington, Nov. 15.—Congress is anticipating a little revolution all its own when it convenes to organize March 4 next.

There is a strong progressive faction in the Senate including Borah, Kenyon, Norris, LaFollette, (and Gronna, who generally votes with LaFollette), Johnson, of California, and McNary, of Oregon. Capper, of Kansas, is expected to line up with this group.

This group privately admits it is preparing to demand recognition and ample representation on those committees, which will handle reconstruction legislation.

ALLIES MUST STAY IN READINESS FOR HOSTILE HUN MOVE

London, Nov. 15.—(British Admiralty Wireless)—"It is evident that we must remain prepared for possible hostile action on the part of certain elements of the enemy's forces," writes the military correspondent of the wireless service.

"Revolutionary councils have been set up which may refuse to acquiesce in the terms of the armistice, and the mere fact that the armistice can be terminated by either side at 48 hours' notice necessitates our being fully prepared for all eventualities."

"Whatever happens, no organized, or effective resistance can under any circumstances be offered by the German army, but if the troops refuse to acknowledge the authority of their present commanders and the army should disintegrate, the allies may still have much work to do."

"The victory gained by the allies' armies is one of the most complete recorded in history, the allies being in the almost unparalleled position of being able to dictate any terms they please to the enemy, who no longer have any means of resisting or protecting the struggle for a single day."

"Henceforth, the problems which lie before us are political, rather than military, but for the moment we are faced with a situation which may require further military effort from our demands."

"Our first object must be to end the peace for which we went to war, and until this is done, we cannot lay our efforts or reduce our efforts to any material extent."

RAYMOND HIGGINS INTERESTINGLY WRITES OF LIFE IN CAMP SHERMAN

The old adage has it that you never appreciate a thing, whether it be an institution, or a privilege, until it is taken away from you.

In other words, "absence makes the heart grow fonder," and in an army camp, such as old Sherman, with its sand and windstorms, a quarantine, such as was imposed during the recent "flu" epidemic, impresses upon one just how necessary are the Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. huts.

The few feet of rough floor space allotted to each soldier around his bunk in barracks, offers little opportunity for the comforts of home, and the soldier makes his parlor, living room and library at the little green building known as the "Y" in army terms, or the brown hut of the K. of C. And were it not for the difference in the exterior appearance of the buildings, it would require an effort to distinguish between the two. Religious distinction is nil in the life of a soldier and habitués of the buildings do not recognize such differences. There is everywhere the spirit of equality and it is this feeling that is doing much to bind all religious classes together, tending toward a stronger spirit of brotherhood when the war is over.

The khaki clad men who are in anyway lonely, find a ready response to conversational efforts in the general secretaries of the two organizations, who extend a ready sympathy and cheering words to all with whom they come in touch. Free entertainment of real merit, and of educational value, are offered at frequent intervals as amusements, each organization arranging its schedule so as not to conflict with the others. Free library service is provided, with plenty of magazines in the cheery reading room, and stamps, stationary and telephone service is also extended. The lad who finds it necessary to send something home, is given plenty of paper, string and shipping tags and the service is extended freely and heartily.

Nor does the open hearted service of these "men of mercy" stop with the limits of their little buildings. Instead, it is unlimited. Examples of this were given most pointedly during the recent epidemic, when secretaries of these organizations visited the crowded wards of the Base Hospital daily, supplying stationary and stamps, and taking the out-going mail or telegrams for the sick. It was in one of these wards that I lay for eight days and looked forward to the visits of these cheery men, who braved the dangers of the influenza, trodding ground from where others were forbidden, and smiling behind their protective masks, visited the wards every day on their errands of mercy.

Washington, Nov. 15.—America will be paying war taxes until 1925. Treasury plans as outlined today show that the heavy burden of taxation must continue for at least six years more. The end of the actual fighting has cut the 1918 cost by $6,000,000,000. Secretary McAdoo announced, but immediate war expense will continue to come. It is for these that the nation will have to provide funds according to officials.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Official information reached the State Department through neutral sources that the former German Crown Prince has arrived in Holland and has been interned.

These advices, which are regarded as entirely dispositive of reports that the former Crown Prince had been killed, also said the former Empress was expected shortly to join her husband and son in Holland.

It is such treatment as this that drives away the blues and increases the morale of the fighting men in camps, and that has had the far-reaching effect of inspiring the men in the trenches to strike at the heart of the enemy with true courage and American bravery.

It is such treatment as this, speaking loudly of the efforts back home, that has inspirational value of the right sort, giving to the men in camp that realization, that what little effort they are making in the

Xenia is Falling Behind

Why is Xenia lagging in the United War Work Campaign? If the boys over there had done only half their duty we could not have celebrated the victory on last Monday. Citizens of Xenia you are expected to do your full duty. Duty means more than thrice your subscription of last year. Are you doing it? I appeal to you in the name of Humanity to put this call across. You did not carry a gun. You did not risk your life. You staid at home and made money. How can you enjoy your war profits if you neglect the boy who made it possible to win the war? The real slacker is the man who refuses to give for the comfort of these lads who will suffer for the want of his blood dollar.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation; or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with citric acid, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed, but even that won't come—well, what would you give to be a well man—well, what would you give to be a well man? What wouldn't you give? Worse cases, poor as you are, are yielding as if by magic to its subtle power. Why not your case? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or good modesty, you deserve to suffer 96 per cent of the supposed incurable disease. If you would confess it to a friend, family, or better still, a physician. Don't argue we tried electricity with no results—you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to seek aid because you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, are you dissatisfied with past treatment.

Remember, all the wishing, hoping and fearing will not remove any real physical ailment. Then, why continue to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

An X-ray examination will cost you but one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years' experience.

FINE ADDRESS IS HEARD BY XENIA PEOPLE

An audience of Xenia people which completely filled the Presbyterian church Thursday evening, being gathered there to attend the first "Community Sing", had the privilege of hearing one of the finest war addresses that has been made in this city.

The speaker was Rev. B. D. Evans, pastor of the Franklin Ave., Methodist church of Columbus, who was sent here in the interest of the United War Work campaign. Rev. Evans recently returned from France, where he went as a United States commissioner and as a representative of his church to make a social, educational and religious survey. He was also a war correspondent while on French soil and visited all the fronts and was under fire. He has two sons in the war, one is in the navy and the other, an artillery officer, recently returned home wearing two wound stripes and suffering from shell shock and gas.

This son had the rare privilege of commanding the first mortar company that faced the Huns and his hand fired the first American mortar shell over the German line.

Rev. Evans, who is a forceful and eloquent speaker left no doubt in the minds of those who heard him regarding his feeling for the Huns. "I have not one good thing to say about Germany," he said. "I know too much about her."

While in Europe he had the privilege of interviewing Brand Whitlock, Ambassador Sharp and high officials in all the allied armies and he said the authentic stories of atrocities he has in his possession makes one's blood run cold. He told one or two of these stories to give his audience an idea of his meaning.

"There can be no peace in the world until German militarism and the damnable philosophy that is at the basis of German thought is wiped off the earth," he said. He declared that William Hohenzollern should be turned over to the British government which has three times convicted him of murder and that he should be hung or shot. In ringing tones he said: "There are no good Germans in Germany except dead ones."

The present war he said is divided into three stages, the military stage, the diplomatic stage and the economic stage. The first stage has passed, but he declared that remaining two stages are more dangerous to the world than the first, or military stage. "It was not force of arms that defeated Russia", he pointed out, "but the underhand diplomatic intriguing of the Huns." It is this that America and the world must guard against in the months and years to come.

The task of making the world free for democracy is only half completed and American must not permit her effort to fail now in this critical stage of world evolution," he said.

In regard to the United War Work drive he said that the need of these allied organizations is greater now than ever. In closing he said "To fail in this campaign is to give the lie to every American lad who has died on the field of battle."

The community sing which preceded the address was most enthusiastic in its response. Led by Prof. Barrington of Columbus, the big audience made the walls of the church resound with the ring of their voices lifted in song.

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Move poisons
from liver and bowels
at once.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath, bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup

foul waste, sour bile and fermenting
food which is clogged in the bowels
passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again.
All children love this harmless, de-

that it is made by the "California Fig

Xenia is Falling Behind

Why is Xenia lagging in the United War Work Campaign? If the boys over there had done only half their duty we could not have celebrated the victory on last Monday. Citizens of Xenia you are expected to do your full duty. Duty means more than thrice your subscription of last year. Are you doing it? I appeal to you in the name of Humanity to put this call across. You did not carry a gun. You did not risk your life. You staid at home and made money. How can you enjoy your war profits if you neglect the boy who made it possible to win the war? The real slacker is the man who refuses to give for the comfort of these lads who will suffer for the want of his blood dollar.

JOHN W. PRUGH,
Chairman United War Work Committee.

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed, but even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man or a woman? What would not you give? Worse cases, perhaps than yours, are yielding as by magic to its subtle power. Why not give up? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer. 95 per cent of the supposed incurable cases could be relieved physically and mentally, if only confided to a friend, family, or better skilled physician. Don't argue. You tried electricity with no results—-you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer hesitating to seek aid because you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, are you dissatisfied with past treatment.

Remembering all the suffering, hoping and praying never suffered any real physical ailment. Then, when unable to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

FINE ADDRESS IS HEARD BY XENIA PEOPLE

An audience of Xenia people which completely filled the Presbyterian church Thursday evening, being gathered there to attend the first "Community Sing", had the privilege of hearing one of the finest war addresses that has been made in this city.

The speaker was Rev. B. D. Evans, pastor of the Franklin Ave., Methodist church of Columbus, who was sent here in the interest of the United War Work campaign. Rev. Evans recently returned from France, where he went as a United States commissioner and as a representative of his church to make a social, educational and religious survey. He was also war correspondent while on French soil and visited all the fronts and was under fire. He has two sons in the war, one is in the navy and the other, an artillery officer, recently returned home wearing two wound stripes and suffering from shell shock and gas.

This son had the rare privilege of commanding the first mortar company that faced the Huns and his hand fired the first American mortar shell over the German line.

Rev. Evans, who is a forceful and eloquent speaker left no doubt in the minds of those who heard him regarding his feeling for the Huns. "I have not one good thing to say about Germany, he said. I know too much about her."

While in Europe he had the privilege of interviewing Brand Whitlock, Ambassador Sharp and high officials in all the allied armies and he said the authentic stories of atrocities he has in his possession makes one's blood run cold. He told one or two of these stories to give his audience an idea of his meaning.

"There can be no peace in the world until German militarism and the dangerous philosophy that is at the basis of German thought is wiped off the earth," he said. He declared that William Hohenzollern should be turned over to the British government which has three times convicted him of murder and that he should be hung or shot. In ringing tones he said: "There are no good Germans in Germany except dead ones."

The present war he said is divided into three stages, the military stage, the diplomatic stage and the economic stage. The first stage has passed, but he declared that remaining two stages are more dangerous to the world than the first, or military stage, "It was not force of arms that defeated Russia", he pointed out, "but the underhand diplomatic intriguing of the Huns." It is this that America and the world must guard against in the months and years to come.

"The task of making the world free for democracy is only half completed and American must not permit her effort to fail now in this critical stage of world evolution," he said.

In regard to the United War Work drive he said that the need of these allied organizations is greater now than ever. In closing he said "To fail in this campaign is to give the lie to every American lad who has died on the field of battle."

The community sing which preceded the address was a most enthusiastic event. Led by Prof. Barrington of Columbus, the big audience made the walls of the church resound with the ring of their voices lifted in song.

THE WORK OF THE "OHIO
BOARD OF CLEMENCY."

A good many persons may not know that there is such a thing as an "Ohio Board of Clemency." It is not to be wondered at, for ninety-nine hundredths of the people have no dealings with any such board. They behave themselves, and have no clemency to ask of anybody. But Ohio has not had a Board of Clemency long, we judge, because we have just received its first annual report, up to June 31st, 1918. The board is composed of three members, Price Russell, chairman, A. E. McKee and Edward J. Farnay, secretary. The work of the Board is with cases in the Ohio Penitentiary, in the Mansfield Reformatory for young men, and with the Woman's Reformatory.

The State of Ohio and its political subdivisions spends nearly $10,000,000 each year in the prevention, detection and punishment of crime. These figures are furnished by State Auditor A. V. Donahey, and were compiled from state records.

This enormous drain on public funds, with the added loss of life and property shows the price of crime and human delinquency each year.

The Board recognizes the showing these figures make, and believes they furnish incentive for rational effort in the reformation of men brought to prison.

The purpose and plan of the Board of Clemency is to apply the rule of common sense to individual cases. Prisoners are not considered as classes. Each case is given individual consideration and investigation, and such action as seems best suited to the man and to the case, is then taken.

As the Board has about 100 cases each at the penitentiary and at Mansfield monthly at its regular hearings, and meets many other prisoners, a vast amount of time is required for the work. The Board believes the best results are secured when each man gets a full hearing by himself. He not only gets it but in cases giving rise to doubt, sometimes two or three personal conferences are had to determine the best plan to pursue.

Men sent to Ohio prisons must help themselves before the state helps them back to freedom. This doctrine has been vigorously presented to all men who have met the Board during the past year. Men must observe the salutary rules of the prison, must acquit themselves as men. When trusted on an outside "honor" job they are expected to show plainly the qualities that make for right living when released. The purpose of parole conditions is the future good of the individual and society welfare. Prisoners on parole are still legally inmates of the prison, under control of the warden or superintendent.

Men on parole are not permitted to drink intoxicating liquor, and must not enter a saloon for any purpose. They must engage in honest employment, observe the laws, and, in a large way, comply with all the requirements of good citizenship.

During the year 745 paroles have been granted penitentiary prisoners by this Board. Of that number 38 men have violated the paroles and failed to justify the clemency shown them.

These figures show that practically 95 men out of each hundred paroled by the Board, have made good, obeyed the law and have fully justified the Board in giving them another chance.

During the past year 1053 prisoners were paroled from the Reformatory at Mansfield. Of that number 58 have failed to behave and been declared parole violators. Prisoners at Mansfield are first offenders, and bring with them the unwisdom of youth.

During the year 105 paroles were granted women prisoners. Twenty-three were declared violators of parole or probation conditions. Many women are released by courts on probation and the larger part of the violations are from that group.

Many evidences of friendly interest on the part of the public have come to the attention of the Board, and many things have occurred to indicate public approval of the work the Board is seeking to do. So many men who have gone out, have made good all over the state, that public sentiment appears to be vigorously supportive of the Ohio parole laws.

GAY AT HEART AND SOUND
IN THE HEAD.

Nothing has so delighted the French who have been brought into touch with the American troops as their wonderful gayety that neither the hardships nor the tragedies of war can dim or dampen. The Paris Illustration has had many an article couched in the highest terms of appreciation, describing the effect upon a French village of the behavior of American troops both before they went into battle as well as after they came out. Their singing and dancing—the dance including the familiar college campus "snap the whip" or "snake dance"; their zeal for cleanliness, their smiling faces, the whiteness of their teeth, their chivalry and what touches the French above all, their ardent belief in their cause and the idea that they are there to redress a gross wrong, and are to be the happy vehicle of justice to France and to the world.

A NEW GERMAN GOD?

Man is a queer animal, the only animal that with abject prayer or boastful song goes forth to kill. The Bible tells us that "God made man after his own image," but some men make their own ideal God, too. The savages of a Pacific island who thought their isle the world instinctively made them a god, and of the only available material, a stick or a stone. When things went wrong they gave the god notice and if not remedied cracked the god into the sea and made them a new god, and as things improved they gave the new god credit for it.

The Germans made them a god of iron and justly called him a war lord. He wantonly invaded Belgium, a peaceful neutral nation; burned their houses and churches, laid waste their fields, stole their cattle and crops, murdered the men for defending their own, and tried to annihilate the widows and orphans by starvation. History tells of a dastardly act of a mortal pervert that his name might go down to posterity. When the Germans throw their war lord over, as they have done, from what will they make a new god?

"THE WIFE"

By JANE PHELPS

BRIAN DETERMINES TO SEE
MANDEL.

CHAPTER LXXXIX.

Brian tried to put what Beckly had said out of his mind, but vainly. He had said that Mandel would cut him out if he didn't take care of Ruth. "That handsome wife of yours," had been the way he spoke of her. From the very first day that Ruth had gone to work, Brian had felt a smoldering jealousy of Mandel. On occasion, he had put it into words—as when Ruth's salary had been raised the first time. He had always been suspicious that Mandel paid her liberally because he was in love with her. Brian never had underlined Ruth's attractions, and now, after Beckly's tactless speech, was inclined to overrate them.

"D— Beckly!" he ejaculated after he had tossed and tumbled for an hour, unable to sleep. "And d— Mandel! They think I am easy, but they'll find out before I'm thru with them." Just why he should associate Beckly and Mandel in his feeling regarding Ruth, it would have been hard to say. Of course Beckly was jealous of him because Mollie preferred him. "Why shouldn't she?" he said to himself with his usual egotism. Mollie had some sense. She was a discriminating kid. But try as he would to dismiss them, Beckly's words persisted in haunting and disquieting him.

He never had seen Mandel to know him in spite of Ruth's oft-repeated request that he come to the shop. He would make it a point to see him while Ruth was away. Beckly had called him her "swell boss;" it was belittling to have his wife spoken of as having a "boss," at least any but him. He'd punch Beckly's head the next time he came near him.

But all his resolves helped not at all as far as sleeping was concerned; and Brian lay awake nearly all night thinking, wondering one minute if he had cause to be jealous of Mandel; the next, deciding that he did, and that Ruth must leave immediately she came home.

He was so grouchy at breakfast that Rachel grumbled to herself, in the kitchen:

"He's stayin' out too late. He ain't up to no good doin' so, when missy Ruth is done gon' away."

"I'll be home to dinner, Rachel," he said shortly as he started for the office.

"All right, Massa Hackett, Rachel! give you de bes' dinner she kin, she sholy will," pleased that he was coming home. The old negress was often lonely when Ruth was away, and although Brian didn't visit with her as Ruth did, it was someone in the house, and therefore company for her.

"Have dinner at seven," he said, then almost repented that he had told Rachel he would come home. It would be horribly lonely eating alone.

He left the office, however, about four-thirty. Ruth had told him that Mandel usually remained until six o'clock. But he wasn't going to take any chances. He'd locate the fellow, then if Ruth was ever with him he couldn't be deceived. He had known of Mandel taking Ruth and her aunt to lunch; of the opera tickets, etc. But he had laid all to his desire to impress Mrs. Clayborne, a very wealthy woman, who might in the future become a customer. Someway, while her aunt had been with her, he had had no thought of being jealous of Mandel. Perhaps because of Ruth's absolute taking it for granted that he would be pleased at the attention to her aunt, their guest.

Brian reached the block upon which Mandel's shop was situated before he remembered that he had formed no plans as to how he should find out who was Mandel—how he was to differentiate him from the men he employed.

Halting opposite, he walked back and forth several times. Finally he crossed the street and spoke to the carriage man who stood near the curb.

"Has Mr. Mandel gone home yet?" he asked without too much interest. "No sir! he will be going in a few minutes. That's his car."

"Very well, I'll smoke while I wait," Brian said, then walked leisurely away. When the fellow's back was turned he stationed himself in a doorway next the shop where he could both see and hear without any danger of being observed.

He had waited but a few moments when he saw a man leave the shop. He was shorter than himself, but so well-groomed, with a manner of such assurance, that it did not need the mention of his name or the obsequious attention of the carriage man to assure him that Mandel had at last appeared.

"Ruth's swell boss!" he exclaimed bitterly, as he watched Mandel seat himself in his car, and give orders to the chauffeur. Even the respectful way the man touched his hat, Brian took as a personal affront. All those things were what Ruth had been accustomed to before he took her from her home where servants did her bidding, and where she was a pampered woman instead of a working one. He ground his teeth savagely as he swung himself into his chair, and then, as he sat there, he thought of Ruth.

HUGH H. HARPER IS INJURED IN FRANCE

Mrs. Nettie Harper, of Spring Valley, has received a letter from her son Hugh H. Harper, who is with the American Expeditionary forces stating that he has been slightly wounded. The letter which was written on October 10th, is as follows:

My Dear Family:

No doubt you are some what worried at not hearing from me. I was wounded about a week ago and am lying down here as cozy as a bug in a rug. I was not hurt seriously, yet painfully. The ankle bone was hit pretty badly so it will be a long drawn out affair. They are lovely to us here. Everything humanly possible is being done for the boys. The Red Cross nurses are certainly angels of mercy to us.

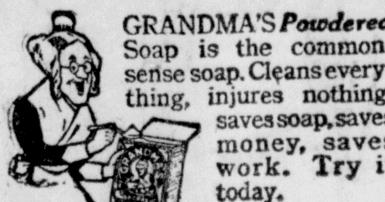

Excuse this writing, but it is hard to write from the flat of one's back.

Letters which have been received since the above letter was written indicate that the young man's injury is more serious than he said it was. He has undergone two operations, but it is understood that his foot will be saved. He is a nephew of R. F. Harper, of North King street, this city.

Not Genuine Generosity.

Said the near cynic, "Some fellows boast of being liberal in their views, but that is as far as their liberality extends."

PRETTY WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED AT THE WOLF HOME

A company of near relatives of the bridal pair, witnessed the pretty ceremony in which Miss Laverna Louise Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolf, became the bride of Samuel Arthur Dean. The service was read by the bride's pastor, the Rev. M. E. Beck of the First Reformed church, at the Wolf home, 109 East Church street, at 6 o'clock Thursday evening.

The marriage altar was a bank of ferns and other verdure arranged in a corner of the parlor. Just before the hour set for the service, Mrs. Raymond Wolf, sister-in-law of the bride sang "At Dawning" accompanied on the piano by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Elizabeth Dean. Mrs. Wolf was in white, while Miss Dean wore a gown of brown velvet and silk.

Two dainty children, niece and nephew of the bride, were the flower girl and ring bearer. Little Louise Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Caldwell, of Oxford, was dressed all in white and she carried a basket full of rose petals which she scattered in the path of the bridal party. Little William Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wolf, bore the ring in a basket full of rose petals.

The bride was escorted by the bridegroom. She was very lovely and girlish in her wedding robe of crepe de chine and georgette crepe, trimmed with hand made lace. Her tulle veil was arranged cap fashion, with a wreath of valley lilies. The veil had been worn by two other brides in the family, Mrs. S. A. Wolf and Mrs. John McAlmon.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the service, a three course supper was served. An interesting feature of this part of the wedding was that the supper was prepared and served by Mrs. Leroy Wolf, with whom the bride was associated last year in the domestic economy department of the Junior High School, and three young girl students of cooking in the McKinley Junior High School. The girls who assisted Mrs. Wolf are the Misses Phyllis Hite, Nellie Hall and Martha Dinwiddie.

The bride's table, at which there were covers for the bridal pair and their brothers and sisters, was in pink and white. The table was centered by a crystal basket filled with pink roses, and there were pink candles in crystal holders, and place cards hand decorated in pink.

During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Dean stayed on their honeymoon trip in the east, the bride wearing away a taupe colored gown with coat, hat and furs to match. They will live on the Dean farm on the Jamestown pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean are among the county's best known young people. Mrs. Dean is a graduate of the Home Economics Department at Miami University, and she taught home economics last year in the McKinley Junior High School. Mr. Dean, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Dean, is a graduate of both Cedarville college and Miami University.

Those from a distance at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. John C. Caldwell and daughter, of Oxford, and Robert Dean, who is a student at Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

A Good Laugh.

A "good laugh" is not quite the same thing as a hearty laugh. Occasionally you may have seen young people convulsed with laughter over something that meant suffering and disaster to another. Many a laugh has been raised by an unclean suggestion. But it is a "good laugh" that has no hint of impurity or unkindness.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DRUGGISTS STILL ASKED TO CONSERVE STOCKS OF VAPORUB NEEDED IN 'FLU' DISTRICTS

Influenza Epidemic is Decreasing in Most Sections and the Demand is Slackening But We Are Still 18,000 Gross Behind On Orders and it Will Take Some Time to Catch Up.

THREE MILLION JARS SHIPPED DURING OCTOBER.

on request. We will also be glad to mail to any individual one of these booklets, together with a quarter-cence sample, free.

HOW TO USE VAPORUB IN TREATING SPANISH INFLUENZA

In every case call a physician—VapoRub should be used only in connection with the physician's internal treatment.

Apply hot, wet cloths over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Dry lightly and rub VapoRub well in until the skin is red—spread on thickly and cover with hot flannel cloths. Leave the bed-covering loose around the neck, as the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the influenza germs. In case of head or chest cold, which often accompanies influenza, the vapors tend to keep the air passages open, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing easier. In addition, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO USE VICK'S VAPORUB AS A PREVENTIVE

It is questionable if there is anything which will prevent Spanish Influenza, except avoiding those persons who are spreading the disease by coughing, sneezing and spitting, and by keeping up the bodily resistance by plenty of good food and exercise in the open air. The Public Health Service recommends that the nasal passages be coated with a weak solution of Menthol in liquid petroleum as a protective. For this purpose VapoRub is excellent. Just put a small portion up each nostril from time to time during the day and snuff well back into the head.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS BY INHALING VAPORUB

Colds irritate the lining of the air passages and thus render them a much better breeding place for the germs. At the first signs of a cold use VapoRub at once. Melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising, or VapoRub can be used in a regular benzoin steam kettle, such as most drugists carry in stock. If this is not available, a very good substitute to use is an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half-full of boiling water—put in a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

SAMPLES AND INFLUENZA BOOKLETS FREE ON REQUEST

We have prepared a little folder giving all the information available so far on Spanish Influenza—its origin—

the symptoms and the treatment, and these will be forwarded to druggists

BLOOD POISONING

Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Safe First Aid Treatment

How often lockjaw and blood poisoning result from the neglect of a slight scratch or little cut? Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a safe and effective first aid treatment. It is a powerful antiseptic and should be applied immediately to wounds of this kind to prevent danger of infection.

It is soothing and healing and quickly drives out pain and inflammation in cases of sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable, too, for stiff neck, sore feet, cold sores, canker sores, earache and toothache.

Get it from druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back.

BOYS OVER THERE APPRECIATE WHAT HOME FOLKS ARE DOING

BY MRS. GEORGE H. GEYER

The boys "over there" certainly do appreciate what the good people of this country are doing to make them more happy and comfortable while they work out our ideals on foreign soil.

The conditions under which they fight and work are beyond our imagination, and beyond their powers of description, and every agency that in any way helps to bring to them the blessings of home and school and church keeps up their spirits and gives our whole army its invincible morale.

The following extract from one of the home letters of Curtis Geyer shows how the boys "over there" feel about it.

"Last night I went down to a Salvation Army meeting with one of the boys. It was a typical meeting and a guitar furnished the instrumental music. We sang some of the old choruses. I suppose a civilian would have called it romantic. There was the average type of boys present. Each one had his helmet and gas mask slung over his shoulder. The room was small and we sat on benches at the tables which serve to write or play checkers on. The elderly lady sat near the door over which hung a curtain lest anyone coming in should light to an enemy aeroplane. She talked to each one going in and coming out just as a mother might. There were two "lassies." One, played the ukulele guitar and the other sang. There were two men, one spoke. It was no sermon, but a simple talk such as a Salvation Army man at home might give. There was a testimony meeting, singing and prayer. It was the first religious service for some of us for some time. We cannot always get out of duty to go; and when we go here, it is not as a duty or to satisfy a conscience; it is because we feel the need of it and get pleasure from it. One never knows the value of some things he has always taken as a matter of course till he is denied them and I will never again wonder if a religious service is a practical help to one's efficiency in the army besides being a religious duty."

The same day the two girls brought oranges and some small home-made cakes to our hospital. They said they'd come again and sing for our patients. These folks fill a need and confer a service that few others can.

They use make-shift equipment and live and work almost on nothing it seems, but they do an amazing amount of good. I go in there every time I get down town. One morning they have real lemonade, another morning they make some cakes or something else and either give it away or sell it cheap. Always it is something new and always there is a home touch to it or to the way they give it. I have seen no money campaign advertised back home for them and only one magazine article written by a man who was over here. But up and down the front line they are reported in various places, traveling in a battered Ford and making doughnuts or lemonade or cocoa for the weary infantry. There is nothing over here more deserving of support from the U. S. and all the more so because they are not advertising themselves or their work. If, in your position you ever have a chance to say a good word for their work, not only your own son but every boy over here will appreciate it. I have just told you all this because folks hear much about they are all right, but no one seems to notice the Salvation Army the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross and work.

The K. of C. and the Y. M. C. A. bring in daily papers, magazines, chocolate and tobacco for the patients quite often.

The chaplains are doing good work over here. A K. of C. man gave com-

EAST END NEWS

Mr. George Roman of the Fairgrounds, is confined to the house with the grip.

Lieut. Oscar W. Price left Tuesday afternoon for Camp Hancock, Ga. He arrived here last Wednesday morning and had a very pleasant stay, visiting relatives and friends here and at Wilberforce. He was away on a ten days' leave of absence, which is counted from the time he left camp until his return.

From Sergeant Joseph L. Booth, Replacement Battalion, Headquarters Company, France:

Dear Cousin—Received your letter, although it was somewhat tardy. I was indeed glad to hear from you, and to know you were getting along fine and enjoying good health. At present I am well and taking good care of myself, hoping to return home in good health. I am getting somewhat home-hungry, although I have nothing to complain of. I am living on the fat of the land, eating three times a day. I hope to see you before many more months pass over my head, and as everything points in that direction, I can't see for the life of me why I should be disappointed. I have surely seen some excitement since leaving home. Nothing for me to jump out of bed in my underwear barefooted, and run for about two or three hundred yards, with my clothes under my arm, through the post to the dug-out, dodging airplane bombs. These raids are repeated so often that we are now sleeping in everything we wear during the day, except our shoes, just like a fire department horse-ready to go at any minute. I read all about Earl Carroll; that certainly is too bad. I read quite a bit of Xenia news. With love to you and regards to inquiring friends, I close. Sergeant Joseph L. Booth.

FOR SALE—Thursday, Nov. 21, at 10 a.m. Having sold my farm, known as the Phillip Spahr farm, on the State Road, 6 miles east of Xenia and 5 miles west of Jamestown, I will sell at public auction: 5 horses, 17 head cattle, 32 sheep, 23 hogs, hay, grain and all kinds of farming implements. Mead & Titus auctioneers. N. C. JOHN AYK.

FOR SALE—Saturday, November 23rd, at 10 a.m., at the Fifteen Liver Barn, No. 30 East Second street, my entire livery outfit, of 15 horses, 20 buggies, 4 surreys, three phaetons, 4 spring wagons, 4 coaches, 1 picnic wagon, 20 private sleighs, 28 sets harness, Over and tongue pair, Ford touring car, 15 tons hay, 10 tons corn, 100 bushels oats, 50 bushels corn, etc. R. Grieve, Auctioneer. N. C. J. A. FIFER.

XENIA CITY IS FALLING DOWN IN WAR WORK DRIVE

Outside of Xenia City the United War Work drive is reported to be progressing in a very satisfactory manner. The country precincts are all expected to reach the quotas they agreed to raise. In Xenia there appears to be a lack of enthusiasm that will have to be overcome if the city is to go over the top. Up to the present time the city has subscribed less than one-fourth of its quota. Already several persons amply able to give have refused to give and others are refusing to give more than a mere pittance. If the soldiers at the front, for whose benefit this money is being raised, had fought with as little enthusiasm as Xenia is displaying the Huns would have licked us long ago.

Those who have not subscribed and those who wish to increase their subscriptions can do so by seeing a solicitor or going directly to the campaign treasurer, H. S. LeSourd. Mr. LeSourd will be in his office both Friday and Saturday nights.

GRACIE W. HARVEY DIES IN COLUMBUS

Gracie V. Harvey, aged 20, passed away yesterday in Columbus after a lingering illness with tuberculosis. The deceased formerly lived in Greene county and has many friends here who will mourn her death. She is survived by her step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warden of Wilmington. She is also survived by two brothers and one sister, Elmer Harvey and Mrs. Emmet Mutterspaw of Xenia and Roy Harvey of New Burlington.

The body has been brought to the home of her sister Mrs. Mutterspaw, in this city and the funeral will be held there Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The burial will be made in New Burlington.

Not Taking Chances.

The "thirteen" superstition exists in New York very strongly. At a dinner to which we were invited 13 guests the other night, it was discovered that 13 persons were present. The host was so disturbed over the fact that he left the table. In tracing the origin of this superstition, he explained, "I found that the Turks have almost eliminated 'thirteen' from their vocabulary. The Italians discontinued the number in making up their lotteries and the thirteenth card in a game they play has on it the symbol of death. So why should I take any chances?"

"OUT OF DANGER"

Then to get back health and strength, is the next thing for Doctor and patient after gripe, influenza or other wasting diseases.

A good tonic is needed and the Medical Profession is a unit in endorsing Iron, Nux Vomica, Gentian, Capsicum and Zinc Phosphide for this purpose. Many preparations containing Iron however are very constipating but this is overcome in Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets by the addition of Aloin.

These Tablets contain all of the above important tonics in easily assimilative form and have no harmful or unpleasant after effects.

These tablets are safe, sure health advised just at this time, builders and their use is strongly Weight yourself before taking them and note how quickly they commence to do good.

Nearly every druggist sells Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets at sixty cents a box. Special strength, ninety cents.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowel do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

Xenia is Falling Behind

Why is Xenia lagging in the United War Work Campaign? If the boys over there had done only half their duty we could not have celebrated the victory on last Monday. Citizens of Xenia you are expected to do your full duty. Duty means more than thrice your subscription of last year. Are you doing it? I appeal to you in the name of Humanity to put this call across. You did not carry a gun. You did not risk your life. You staid at home and made money. How can you enjoy your war profits if you neglect the boy who made it possible to win the war? The real slacker is the man who refuses to give for the comfort of these lads who will suffer for the want of his blood dollar. . . .

Chairman United War Work Committee.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with silica, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Xenia is Falling Behind

Why is Xenia lagging in the United War Work Campaign? If the boys over there had done only half their duty we could not have celebrated the victory on last Monday. Citizens of Xenia you are expected to do your full duty. Duty means more than thrice your subscription of last year. Are you doing it? I appeal to you in the name of Humanity to put this call across. You did not carry a gun. You did not risk your life. You staid at home and made money. How can you enjoy your war profits if you neglect the boy who made it possible to win the war? The real slacker is the man who refuses to give for the comfort of these lads who will suffer for the want of his blood dollar. . . .

Chairman United War Work Committee.

BEAUTIFUL SERVICE HELD FOR LITTLE GIRL

The funeral services for little Helen Johnson, who died last Thursday night of typhoid fever, at the Espy hospital, were held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the West End church. The little girl had been sick for several weeks.

The loving sympathy of many friends was shown by the number of beautiful sprays of flowers sent by neighbors, the Sabbath School, the nurses at the hospital, and by those by whom the little girl had been employed.

The members of the S. S. class to which she belonged sent a large basket of beautiful chrysanthemums.

Dr. Proudfoot, assisted by Dr. Kyle and Rev. Mackenzie, had charge of the service.

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding which then act normally again.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with silica, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

How Strong Are You?

It's Just Acidity That Makes Millions Sick and Suffer

It's true. There are millions of people all over the land who are weak, nervous, all tired and dragged out, who are trying to build up their jaded nerves and weakened bodies with drugs and stimulants; and many of them also FAIR and FAT—but fail to gain anything near the full amount of strength and nonchalance out of their food. Why? Simply because of too much acid in the stomach—superacidity.

Get rid of the excess acid. Your stomach is all the time in a condition to work easily and naturally. Then your food will taste better, your appetite comes back, and your blood warms up!

AWNING ORDINANCE TO BE ENFORCED WITHOUT DELAY

City Manager Riddle was authorized at the regular meeting of the City Commission held Thursday evening to enforce the awning ordinances at once. The City manager will shortly notify all persons affected by the ordinance the date when all awnings and sidewalk displays must be removed.

The Social Service league presented a petition at this meeting of the commission asking that the city pay $300 toward the salary of the Social Service worker. The commission was anxious to grant the request but was unable to do so on account of lack of funds.

The regular appropriation ordinances was presented and was placed on its first reading.

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it everyday. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed, but even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man? "How about a woman? What would you give? Women are perhaps to yours, are yielding as they might to its subtle power. Why not your ease? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer. If you could be of the supposed incurable cases, if they would be cured physically and mentally, if they would be cured to a friend, family, or better, a skilled physician. Don't argue I've tried electricity with no results—you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to call a doctor, you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, afraid you are satisfied with past treatment.

Remember, all the wishing, hoping and praying never cured any real physical ailment. Then, why continue to groan and suffer, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

An X-ray examination will cost you but one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years' experience.

FINE ADDRESS IS HEARD BY XENIA PEOPLE

An audience of Xenia people which completely filled the Presbyterian church Thursday evening, being gathered there to attend the first "Community Sing," had the privilege of hearing one of the finest war addresses that has been made in this city. The speaker was Rev. B. D. Evans, pastor of the Franklin Ave., Methodist church of Columbus, who was sent here in the interest of the United War Work campaign. Rev. Evans recently returned from France, where he went as a United States commissioner and as a representative of his church to make a social, educational and religious survey. He was also a war correspondent. He was from French soil and he visited all the fronts and was under fire. He has two sons in the war, one is in the navy and the other, an artillery officer, recently returned home wearing two wound strips and suffering from shell shock and gas. This son had the rare privilege of commanding the first mortar company that faced the Huns and his hand fired the first American mortar shell over the German line.

Rev. Evans, who is a forceful and eloquent speaker left no doubt in the minds of those who heard him regarding his feeling for the Huns. "I have not one good thing to say about the Huns," he said. "I know too much about her." While in Europe he had the privilege of interviewing Brand Whitlock, Ambassador Sharp and high officials in all the allied armies and he said the authentic stories of atrocities he has in his possession makes one's blood run cold. He told one or two of these stories to give his audience an idea of his meaning.

"There can be no peace in the world until German militarism and the dastardly philosophy that is at the basis of German thought is wiped off the earth," he said. He declared that William Hohenzollern should be turned over to the British government which has three times convicted him of murder and that he should be hung or shot. In ringing tones he said: "There are no good Germans in Germany except dead ones."

The present war he said is divided into three stages, the military stage, the diplomatic stage and the economic stage. The first stage has passed, but he declared that remaining two stages are more dangerous to the world than the first or military stage. "It was not force of arms that defeated Russia," he pointed out, "but the underhand diplomatic intriguing of the Huns." It is this that America and the world must guard against in the months and years to come.

The task of making the world free for democracy is only half completed and America must not permit her effort to fail now in this critical stage of world evolution," he said.

In regard to the United War Work drive he said that the need of these allied organizations is greater now than ever. In closing he said "To fail in this campaign is to give the lie to every American lad who has died on the field of battle."

The community sing which preceded the address was a most enthusiastic event. Led by Prof. Barrington of Columbus, the big audience made the walls of the church resound with the ring of their voices lifted in song.

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Move poisons
from liver and bowels
at once.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleaning at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a general liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting
food which is clogged in the bowels
passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again.

All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleaning. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "Califor-

that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

THE WORK OF THE "OHIO
BOARD OF CLEMENCY."

A good many persons may not know that there is such a thing as an "Ohio Board of Clemency." It is not to be wondered at, for ninety-nine hundredths of the people have no dealings with any such board. They behave themselves, and have no clemency to ask of anybody. But Ohio has not had a Board of Clemency long, we judge, because we have just received its first annual report, up to June 31st, 1918. The board is composed of three members, Price Russell, chairman, A. E. McKeon and Edward J. Farnham, secretary. The work of the Board is with cases in the Ohio Penitentiary, in the Mansfield Reformatory for young men, and with the Women's Reformatory.

The State of Ohio and its political subdivisions spends nearly $10,000,000 each year in the prevention, detection and punishment of crime. These figures are furnished by State Auditor A. V. Donahey, and were compiled from state records.

This enormous drain on public funds, with the added loss of life and property shows the price of crime and human delinquency each year.

The Board recognizes the showing these figures make, and believes they furnish incentive for rational effort in the reformation of men brought to prison.

The purpose and plan of the Board of Clemency is to apply the rule of common sense to individual cases. Prisoners are not considered as classless. Each case is given individual consideration and investigation, and such action as seems best suited to the man and to the case, is then taken.

As the Board has about 100 cases each at the penitentiary and at Mansfield monthly at its regular hearings, and meets many other prisoners, a vast amount of time is required for the work. The Board believes the best results are secured when each man gets a full hearing by himself. He not only gets it but in cases giving rise to doubt, sometimes two or three personal conferences are had to determine the best plan to pursue.

Men sent to Ohio prisons must help themselves before the state helps them back to freedom. This doctrine has been vigorously presented to all men who have met the Board during the past year. Men must observe the salutary rules of the prison, must acquit themselves as men. When trusted on an outside "honor" job they are expected to show plainly the qualities that make for right living when released. The purpose of parole conditions is the future good of the individual and society welfare. Prisoners on parole are still legally inmates of the prison, under control of the warden or superintendent.

Men on parole are not permitted to drink intoxicating liquor, and must not enter a saloon for any purpose. They must engage in honest employment, observe the laws, and, in a large way, comply with all the requirements of good citizenship.

During the year 745 paroles have been granted penitentiary prisoners by this Board. Of that number 38 men have violated the paroles and failed to justify the clemency shown them.

These figures show that practically 95 men out of each hundred paroled by the Board, have made good, obeyed the law and have fully justified the Board in giving them another chance.

During the past year 1053 prisoners were paroled from the Reformatory at Mansfield. Of that number 58 have failed to behave and been declared parole violators. Prisoners at Mansfield are first offenders, and bring with them the un wisdom of youth.

During the year 105 paroles were granted women prisoners. Twenty-three were declared violators of parole or probation conditions. Many women are released by courts on probation and the larger part of the violations are from that group.

Many evidences of friendly interest on the part of the public have come to the attention of the Board, and many things have occurred to indicate public approval of the work the Board is seeking to do. So many men who have gone out, have made good all over the state, that public sentiment appears to be vigorously supportive of the Ohio parole laws.

GAY AT HEART AND SOUND
IN THE HEAD.

Nothing has so delighted the French who have been brought into touch with the American troops as their wonderful gayety that neither the hardships nor the tragedies of war can dim or dampen. The Paris Illustration has had many an article couched in the highest terms of appreciation, describing the effect upon a French village of the behavior of American troops both before they went into battle as well as after they came out. Their singing and dancing—the dance including the familiar college campus "snap the whip" or "snake dance"; their zeal for cleanliness, their smiling faces, the whiteness of their teeth, their chivalry and, what touches the French above all, their ardent belief in their cause and the idea that they are there to redress a gross wrong, and are to be the happy vehicle of justice to France and to their world.

A NEW GERMAN GOD?

Man is a queer animal, the only animal that with abject prayer or boastful song goes forth to kill. The Bible tells us that "God made man after his own image," but some men make their own ideal God, too. The savages of a Pacific island who thought their isle the world instinctively made them a god, and of the only available material, a stick or a stone. When things went wrong they gave the god notice and if not remedied chucked the god into the sea and made them a new god, and as things improved they gave the new god credit for it.

The Germans made them a god of iron and justly called him a war lord. He wantonly invaded Belgium, a peaceful neutral nation; burned their houses and churches, laid waste their fields, stole their cattle and crops, murdered the men for defending their own, and tried to annihilate the widows and orphans by starvation. History tells of a dastardly act of a moral pervert that his name might go down to posterity. When the Germans throw their war lord over, as they have done, from what will they make a new god?

"THE WIFE"

By JANE PHELPS

BRIAN DETERMINES TO SEE
MANDEL.

CHAPTER LXXXIX.

Brian tried to put what Beckly had said out of his mind, but vainly. He had said that Mandel would cut him out if he didn't take care of Ruth. "That handsome wife of yours," had been the way he spoke of her. From the very first day that Ruth had gone to work, Brian had felt a smoldering jealousy of Mandel. On occasion, he had put it into words—as when Ruth's salary had been raised the first time. He had always been suspicious that Mandel paid her liberally because he was in love with her. Brian never had been in love with Ruth. Brian's attractions, and now, after Beckly's tactless speech, was inclined to overrate them.

"D— Beckly!" he ejaculated after he had tossed and tumbled for an hour, unable to sleep. "And d— Mandel! They think I am easy, but they'll find out before I'm thru with them." Just why he should associate Beckly and Mandel in his feeling regarding Ruth, it would have been hard to say. Of course Beckly was jealous of him because Mollie preferred him. "Why shouldn't she?" he said to himself with his usual egotism, Mollie had some sense. She was a discriminating kid. But try as he would to dismiss them, Beckly's words persisted in haunting and disquieting him.

He never had seen Mandel to know him in spite of Ruth's oft-repeated request that he come to the shop. He would make it a point to see him while Ruth was away. Beckly had called him her "swell boss;" it was belittling to have his wife spoken of as having a "boss," at least any but him. He'd punch Beckly's head the next time he came near him.

But all his resolves helped not at all as far as sleeping was concerned; and Brian lay awake nearly all night thinking, wondering one minute if he had cause to be jealous of Mandel; the next, deciding that he did, and that Ruth must leave immediately she came home.

He was so grumpy at breakfast that Rachel grumbled to herself, in the kitchen:

"He's stayin' out too late. He ain't up to no good doin' so, when missy Ruth is done gon' away."

"I'll be home to dinner, Rachel," he ground his teeth savagely as he swung said shortly as he started for the office.

"All right, Massa Hackett, Rachel! give you de bes' dinner she kin, she sholy will," pleased that he was coming home. The old negress was often lonely when Ruth was away, and although Brian didn't visit with her as Ruth did, it was someone in the house, and therefore company for her.

"Have dinner at seven," he said, then almost repented that he had told Rachel he would come home. It would be horribly lonely eating alone.

He left the office, however, about four-thirty. Ruth had told him that Mandel usually remained until six o'clock. But he wasn't going to take any chances. He'd locate the fellow, then if Ruth was ever with him he couldn't be deceived. He had known of Mandel taking Ruth and her aunt to lunch; of the opera tickets, etc. But he had laid it all to his desire to impress Mrs. Clayborne, a very wealthy woman, who might in the future become a customer. Someway, while her aunt had been with her, he had had no thought of being jealous of Mandel. Perhaps because of Ruth's absolute taking it for granted that he would be pleased at the attention to her aunt, their guest.

Brian reached the block upon which Mandel's shop was situated before he remembered that he had formed no plans as to how he should find out who was Mandel—how to differentiate him from the men he employed.

Halting opposite, he walked back and forth several times. Finally he crossed the street and spoke to the carriage man who stood near the curb.

"Has Mr. Mandel gone home yet?" he asked without too much interest.

"No sir! he will be going in a few minutes. That's his car."

"Very well. I'll smoke while I wait," Brian said, then walked leisurely away. When the fellow's back was turned he stationed himself in a doorway next the shop where he could both see and hear without any danger of being observed.

He had waited but a few moments when he saw a man leave the shop. He was shorter than himself, but so well-groomed, with a manner of such assurance, that it did not need the mention of his name or the obsequious attention of the carriage man to assure him that Mandel had at last appeared.

"Ruth's swell boss!" he exclaimed bitterly, as he watched Mandel seat himself in his car, and give orders to the chauffeur.

Even the respectful way the man touched his hat, Brian took as a personal affront. All those things were what Ruth had been accustomed to before he took her from her home where servants did her bidding, and where she was a pampered woman instead of a working one. He

DRUGGISTS STILL ASKED TO CONSERVE STOCKS OF VAPORUB NEEDED IN 'FLU' DISTRICTS

Influenza Epidemic is Decreasing in Most Sections and the Demand is Slackening But We Are Still 18,000 Gross Behind On Orders and it Will Take Some Time to Catch Up.

THREE MILLION JARS SHIPPED DURING OCTOBER.

On Monday, October 21, we addressed an advertisement to the wholesale and retail drug trade, advising that we were badly oversold, due to the influenza epidemic, stating that all deals and quantity shipments were postponed, and requesting that VapoRub be purchased in small lots only. This condition still prevails.

At this writing we have back orders for eighteen thousand (18,000) gross and our orders each day are double our daily output. The epidemic, however, is decreasing in most sections, the demand is slackening and we are working night and day to catch up. In the meantime, we ask the trade to be patient with us.

ENORMOUS SHIPMENTS HAVE WIPE OUT EXCESS STOCKS

On October 1st we had on hand at the factory and in twenty warehouses over the country a tremendous stock of VapoRub, accumulated during the summer months. This is now gone—we actually shipped during the month of October over three million jars of VapoRub. We are speeding up our factory as much as possible and the problem now is to distribute the factory's output as quickly as possible. We have, therefore, for the time being, abandoned freight shipments and are shipping either by Parcel Post or express—trying to give each jobber at least a little stock.

IMMEDIATE SHIPMENTS TO DRUGGISTS IN INFLUENZA DISTRICTS

Preference is being given to those sections stricken by influenza. In order to reach these sections as quickly as can be, we are, during this emergency, making shipments by Parcel Post, direct, to the retail trade, of not more than three (3) dozen 30c size in any one shipment. We prefer that the jobbers order these shipments for their trade, but to save time we will, if the need is urgent, ship direct on receipt of check or money order. Naturally, no new accounts can be opened during this rush.

SAMPLES AND INFLUENZA BOOKLETS FREE ON REQUEST

We have prepared a little folder giving all the information available so far on Spanish Influenza—its origin—the symptoms and the treatment, and these will be forwarded to druggists on request. We will also be glad to mail to any individual one of these booklets, together with a quarter-sample, free.

HOW TO USE VAPORUB IN TREATING SPANISH INFLUENZA

In every case call a physician. VapoRub should be used only in connection with the physician's internal treatment.

Apply hot, wet cloths over the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Dry lightly and rub VapoRub well in until the skin is red—spread on thickly and cover with hot flannel cloths. Leave the bed-covering loose around the neck, as the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. These vapors, inhaled with each breath, stimulate the lining of the air passages to throw off the influenza germs. In case of head or chest cold, which often accompanies influenza, the vapors tend to keep the air passages open, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing easier. In addition, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, attracting the blood to the surface, and thus aids in relieving the congestion within.

HOW TO USE VICK'S VAPORUB AS A PREVENTIVE

It is questionable if there is anything which will prevent Spanish Influenza, except avoiding those persons who are spreading the disease by coughing, sneezing and spitting, and by keeping up the bodily resistance by plenty of good food and exercise in the open air. The Public Health Service recommends that the nasal passages be coated with a weak solution of Menthol in liquid petroleum as a protective. For this purpose VapoRub is excellent. Just put a small portion up each nostril from time to time during the day and snuff well back into the head.

KEEP FREE FROM COLDS BY INHALING VAPORUB

Colds irritate the lining of the air passages and thus render them a much better breeding place for the germs. At the first signs of a cold use VapoRub at once. Melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising, or VapoRub can be used in a regular brazier steam kettle, such as most druggists carry in stock. If this is not available, a very good substitute to use is an ordinary tea-kettle. Fill half-full of boiling water—put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

BOYS OVER THERE APPRECIATE WHAT HOME FOLKS ARE DOING

BY MRS. GEORGE H. GEYER

The boys "over there" certainly do appreciate what the good people of this country are doing to make them more happy and comfortable while they work out our ideals on foreign soil.

The conditions under which they fight and work are beyond our imagination, and beyond their powers of description, and every agency that in any way helps to bring to them the blessings of home and school and church keeps up their spirits and gives our whole army its invincible morale.

The following extract from one of the home letters of Curtis Geyer shows how the boys "over there" feel about it.

"Last night I went down to a Salvation Army meeting with one of the boys. It was a typical meeting and a guitar furnished the instrumental music. We sang some of the old choruses. I suppose a civilian would have called it romantic. There was the average type of boys present. Each one had his helmet and gas mask slung over his shoulder. The room was small and we sat on benches at the tables which serve to write or play checkers on. The elderly lady sat near the door over which hung a curtain lest anyone coming in should light to an enemy aeroplane. She talked to each one going in and coming out just as a mother might. There were two "lassies." One played the fiddle and the other sang. There were two men, one spoke. It was no sermon, but a simple talk, such as a Salvation Army man at home might give. There was a testimony meeting, singing and prayer. It was the first religious service for some of us for some time. We cannot always get off duty to go; and when we go here, it is not as a duty or to satisfy a conscience; it is because we feel the need of it and get pleasure from it. One never knows the value of some things he has always taken as a matter of course till he is denied them and I will never again wonder if a religious service is a practical help to one's efficiency in the army besides being a religious duty."

The same day the two girls brought oranges and some small home-made cakes to our hospital. They said they'd come again and sing for our patients. These folks fill a need and confer a service that few others can. They use make-shift equipment and live and work almost on nothing it seems, but they do an amazing amount of good. I go in there every time I get down town. One morning they have real lemonade, another morning they make some cakes or something else and either give it away or sell it cheap. Always it is something new and always there is a home touch to it or to the way they give it. I have seen no money campaign advertised back home for them and only one magazine article written by a man who was over here. But up and down the front line they are reported in various places, in a battered Ford and making doughnuts or lemonade or coco for the weary infantry. There is nothing over here more deserving of support from the U. S. and all the more so because they are not advertising themselves or their work. If, in your position you ever have a chance to say a good word for their work, not only your own son but every boy over here will appreciate it. I have just told you all this because folks hear much about they are all right, but no one seems to notice the Salvation Army the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross and work.

The K. of C. and the Y. M. C. A. bring in daily papers, magazines, chocolate and tobacco for the patients quite often.

The chaplains are doing good work over here. A K. of C. man gave com-

XENIA CITY IS FALLING DOWN IN WAR WORK DRIVE

Outside of Xenia City the United War Work drive is reported to be progressing in a very satisfactory manner. The country precincts are all expected to reach the quotas they agreed to raise. In Xenia there appears to be a lack of enthusiasm that will have to be overcome if the city is to go over the top. Up to the present time the city has subscribed less than one-fourth of its quota. Already several persons amply able to give have refused to give and others are refusing to give more than a mere pittance. If the soldiers at the front, for whose benefit this money is being raised, had fought with as little enthusiasm as Xenia is displaying the Hunns would have licked us long ago.

Those who have not subscribed and those who wish to increase their subscriptions can do so by seeing a solicitor or going directly to the campaign treasurer, H. S. LeSourd. Mr. LeSourd will be in his office both Friday and Saturday nights.

Not Taking Chances.
The "thirteen" superstition exists in New York very strongly. At a dinner to which were invited 13 guests the other night, it was discovered that 13 persons were present. The host was so disturbed over the fact that he left the table. "In tracing the origin of this superstition," he explained, "I found that the Turks have almost eliminated 'thirteen' from their vocabulary. The Italians discontinued the number in making up their lotteries and the thirteenth card in a game they play has on it the symbol of death. So why should I take any chances?"

"OUT OF DANGER"

Then to get back health and strength, is the next thing for Doctor and patient after gripe, influenza or other wasting diseases.

A good tonic is needed and the Medical Profession is a unit in endorsing Iron, Nux Vomica, Gentian, Capsicum and Zinc Phosphide for this purpose. Many preparations containing Iron however, are very constipating but this is overcome in Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets by the addition of Aloin.

These Tablets contain all of the above important tonics in easily assimilative form and have no harmful or unpleasant after effects.

These tablets are safe, sure health advised just at this time.

builders and their use is strongly weighed before taking them and note how quickly they commence to do good.

Nearly every druggist sells Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets at sixty cents a box. Special strength, ninety cents. adv

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowel do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.
